making the connection between good will and good organizations

notable

According to EPA estimates, almost 9 million tons of office assets are thrown away annually. Wouldn't it be better to donate the furniture you no longer need to an organization that could use it? By finding a recipient for your used furniture, Kimiko Designs will keep your furniture out of a landfill and help you do something good for a school or other nonprofit in your community.

a brighter future for your furniture

case study

Ready to upgrade your office furniture? Give your old pieces a second life by donating them to a school or nonprofit in need. Kimiko Designs will pair you up with a worthy organization so you can get rid of what no longer serves you and save somebody else thousands of dollars in furniture costs. It's win-win situation.

- No waste. Your furniture goes to good use. It's much cleaner and greener than throwing your old stuff away.
- Direct impact. Donations go straight from your offices to their final destination, with no hidden costs along the way.
- Great vibes. You'll receive a receipt for your donation, and you may even be able to take a tax deduction on the value. You can definitely feel good about doing the right thing.

what businesses say:

"Caldwell Companies is always happy to support education in any way we can, especially in the wake of Hurricane Harvey, and we are grateful that Dianne and her team were able to connect us with a school that can give these furniture items a second life."

what non-profits say:

"School budgets are already tight, so we couldn't have been more thrilled to receive great-looking furniture second-hand. We received thousands of dollars worth of chairs, desks, and supplies. The furniture looks super and it functions really well. We are extremely grateful to have it."
